Focus on Healthy Communities

Alcohol at Events

Every community hosts social gatherings and events. In order to accommodate everyone on the guest list, party planners often book community facilities that have enough space for everyone to attend comfortably. Every event hosted is different in terms of reason for event, theme, etc. The Town of Inuvik offers their rental facility at a reduced rate for events that will not include alcohol. The Healthy Living Communities Toolkit would like to highlight this as a best practice for all Community Governments across the NWT.

NWTAC Member Services Asset Management Plan Guide

Asset management is an organization-wide approach for managing infrastructure assets to enable the provision of community services.

The Asset Management Plan Guide (“The Guide”) was developed by the Northwest Territories Association of Communities (NWTAC). The Guide is designed to help communities use the Asset Management Plan Template, and complementary Asset Inventory Templates to create documents that are tailored to their local context. This Guide is part of a Toolkit of resources that have been developed to help communities build their capacity in asset management.

Food Security Funding

The Maple Leaf Centre for Action on Food Security (“the Centre”) collaborates with other organizations and individuals to advance food security. We are seeking to raise the profile of this pressing social issue, advocate for critical policies and invest in programs required to make sustainable improvements.

The Feed Opportunity Fund provides grants to organizations engaged in testing and expanding innovative approaches to advance food security. We aim to learn from the successes and failures of each initiative that we support and to find models that work which have the potential to be replicated or scaled for greater impact.
