NWTAC -COVID 19- ISSUE 3

We mourn in solidarity with the people of Nova Scotia at this tragic time. As your communities cope with so much loss, please know that you have friends and family mourning with you across Canada.

Wishing you peace in comfort, we grieve with you, we stand with you and we assure you that you will rise again.

Hon. Caroline Cochrane Premier
Dr. Kami Kandola
Chief Public Health Officer

RE: Thank you for your responsiveness

Dear Premier Cochrane & Dr. Kandola;

As we were reviewing the agendas and minutes from our meetings between the GNWT and our Mayors & Chiefs, what has become apparent is just how receptive you have been to our concerns. We would be remiss in not taking the time to extend our gratitude to the GNWT for this responsiveness.

We know that Dr. Kandola, Cabinet and Senior Staff are making quick but informed decisions on altering the path the illness takes in the NWT and we sincerely appreciate that many of your actions or perhaps their timing have been in response to what you heard from our Mayors and Chiefs on our weekly calls and the advocacy from our Board.

We have appreciated the opportunity to not only express our challenges and concerns but to know that they were heard and actioned.

The roll out of Covid-19 preparedness in the NWT has been swift and many people should be commended. The Health system, emergency management systems and many more are collaborating and for that you should be lauded. We know that many of you are working long hours as we get email replies and return calls late at night, early in the morning and on weekends.

We look forward to continuing to work with you in this collaborative model. There are still many unknowns, but there is confidence in facing this pandemic together here, rather than any other place on the earth. We don't get rid of Public Health Orders because we have 0 active cases. We have 0 active cases because of the Public Health Orders.

Sincerely,
