Keynote Speaker – Tracy Lorenson of Civic Excellence

Achieving excellence isn't about having more — it's about working better together, which is particularly true in small and remote communities. In this keynote, Mayors & Chiefs and Senior Administrative Officers (SAOs) and Band Managers learned practical ways to improve their organizations, even with limited people and budgets. The session showed how strong governance systems and a healthy team culture can build trust, improve accountability, and help council and staff work toward shared goals. Participants left with simple, real-life strategies to encourage teamwork, solve problems, and lead their communities to success, including setting boundaries for supporting civility.
